

Developing Clinical Trials

Have you got an idea for a clinical trial?
Would you like to learn more about
developing clinical trials?

The North West Surgical Trials Centre is running an afternoon workshop aimed at trainees, aspiring to be the next generation of Chief Investigators.

The afternoon will feature talks from senior triallists, trainees already involved in clinical research, as well as a chance to pitch your trial ideas to senior researchers for advice on how to take your project further.

Attendance is free, but booking is essential.

For more details or to book a place, please contact Gemma Nanson—g.simpson@liv.ac.uk or 0151 794 8974

The Centre at Birchwood Park
Friday 1st May 2015
12pm - 5pm